

MASTER THE LANGUAGE OF 'BEING RELEVANT' to your dog

Does it occasionally seem like your dog 'is just not that into you'? Do you struggle to get your dog to acknowledge your presence when needed ... or at all? Have you tried all of the latest trends and tools, fed the best food, given them plenty of exercise, and yet ... your dog chooses to NOT be with you most of the time!?

How many times have you asked yourself, in utter frustration ... 'Why won't my dog acknowledge me!?' The answer could be because ... you are not relevant to your dog!

Join Karen Laws, Ontario Dog Trainer at the Rocksteady Kennels and Dog Behavior Centre to master the 'LANGUAGE OF BEING RELEVANT' to your dog.

YOU WILL LEARN:

- WHAT 'BEING RELEVANT' means to your dog;
- WHY relevance matters!
- HOW to be relevant to your dog,
- WHAT tools are the most important pieces of your tool box.
- WHY proper tool selection, timing and use, is essential to your relationship with your dog.
- ... and much more!

YOUR DOG WILL LEARN:

- HOW to make the right choice in all situations
- WHAT to do when distracted!
- WHEN to make the right choice.
- WHY YOU are THE critical element in your dog's choices.

Karen is founder and Chief Woof Officer of the Ontario Dog Trainer (www.ontariodogtrainer.com), - a fast growing Dog and Trainer Learning Centre, offering canine career development opportunities, specialized workshops, private lessons, and a unique and highly successful Boarding School for Dogs and Puppies.

She is past President/Director and is an active Professional member of the International Association of Canine Professionals (IACP). She is a certified trainer at the highest level of IACP standards (CDT, CDTA, PDTI).

Karen's unique perspective on educating dogs and dog owners is the result of decades of experience working in the competitive and companion dog industry as well as the corporate and business worlds. She understands what makes dogs and people 'tick'.

Karen will be at Rocksteady Kennels to share with you her more than thirty-five years experience working with dogs and their owners at all levels. The tools that we use to achieve desired behaviours with dogs while often necessary, are secondary to your relationship and the need to be relevant to create the dog that you want.

You will come away from this workshop understanding why being relevant to your dog matters. You will know how to recognize when you are making the desired connections. We will explore the benefits and pitfalls of various training tools and approaches that goes way beyond simple mechanics of obedience training.

Regardless of your level of experience with dogs and training tools, this workshop will be an experience like never before. You will learn why and how to maximize your relevance with your dogs and by graduation ... YOU WILL BE RELEVANT!
